

Washington Times's Book of Magic—Nursery Rhymes Pictured in Chameleon Colors

Peter, Peter, pumpkin eater, Had a wife and couldn't keep her;
He put her in a pumpkin
shell,
And there he kept her very well.

Tom, Tom, the piper's
son,
Stole a pig and away
he run;
The pig was eat
And Tom was beat,
And Tom ran crying
down the street.

Old Mother Hubbard
Went to the cupboard To get her poor dog a bone;
But when she came there
The cupboard was bare,
And so the poor dog had none.

There was an old woman who lived in a shoe.
She had so many children
She didn't know what to do.
She gave them some bread without any bread,
She whipped them
all round,
And sent them to bed.

See-saw, Marjory Daw, Jacky shall have a new master;
Jacky must have a penny a day
Because he can work no faster.

Little Tommy Tittlemouse
Lived in a little house,
And he caught fishes
In other men's ditches.

HERE are some gems from Mother Goose, that unrivaled classic of childhood that no grown-up ever forgets. See how much more interested the little ones will be in the rhymes as the magic colors develop in the pictures under the brush. Use an ordinary brush as in water color paintings. Dip the brush in plain water and then paint, keeping within the black outlines. Wash the brush frequently. Best results from luke-warm water; don't use ice water. If you haven't a brush you can use cotton wrapped around the end of a toothpick.
